Getting Started - Tips for Long-term Exercise Success

Walking, swimming, cycling, jogging, skiing, aerobic dancing or any of dozens of other activities can help your heart. They all cause you to feel warm, perspire and breathe heavily without being out of breath and without feeling any burning sensation in your muscles.

Whether it is a structured exercise program or just part of your daily routine, all exercise adds up to a healthier heart. Take the first step by walking. It's free, easy to do and when you have a walking companion, you're more likely to stay motivated.

Atrial Fibrillation (also called AFib or AF) is a quivering or irregular heartbeat (arrhythmia) that can lead to stroke and other heart-related complications. In atrial fibrillation, the upper chambers of the heart (the atria) beat irregularly (quiver) instead of beating effectively to move blood into the ventricles. It's the most common "serious" heart rhythm abnormality in people over the age of 65 years. Untreated atrial fibrillation doubles the risk of heart-related deaths and causes a 4–5-fold increased risk for stroke, many patients are unaware that AF is a serious condition.

Heart Healthy Cooking

Creamy Chicken-Broccoli Casserole with Whole Wheat Pasta.

From the American Heart Association:
Makes 6 servings

1 (13.25 oz.) or $\frac{3}{4}$ (16 oz.) package spiral-shaped whole-wheat pasta like fusilli
1½ pounds boneless, skinless chicken breasts, visible fat removed and cut into 1-inch pieces

$\frac{3}{4}$ teaspoon salt-free dried Italian spice blend or dried thyme

1 (15 $\frac{1}{4}$ oz.) can no salt added or low sodium whole kernel corn drained and rinsed or 1 (16 oz.) bag frozen corn, thawed

1 (16 oz.) bag frozen cut broccoli, thawed

1 8 oz. tub of fat-free cream cheese

1 cup plain nonfat yogurt

Preheat oven to 350°F. Cook pasta according to package instructions, omitting salt and oil or other fat.

In a large pan over high heat, add chicken and cook until done, about 5 minutes. Lower the heat to low, and add spice blend, corn, broccoli, cream cheese, and yogurt. Mix until combined and cream cheese has melted.

Add pasta, stirring to combine. (Do this in a bowl if pasta can't fit into the large pan).

Transfer to a 13x9-inch baking dish. Cover with foil, and cook in oven until fully warmed, about 15 minutes.
